riocol® MOUTHWASH

An essential ally, thanks to the combination of ingredients that, used consistently, have beneficial effects on damaged oral mucous membrane.

Riocol's formula based on natural extracts ensures maximum efficiency, thereby ensuring beneficial effects on the oral mucous membrane.

1) it boosts the natural defence of the body, thanks to the product's sanitising and disinfectant properties; if used consistently, it has beneficial effects on damaged oral mucous membrane.

2) emollient and soothing activity on the oropharyngeal mucous membrane, essential to improve the "tone of voice" in order to alleviate laryngitis, pharyngitis symptoms and sore throat.

3) protects against canker sores and gingivitis, which are widespread and annoying disorders of the oral cavity.

4) beneficial effects on the gastrointestinal function. Its natural composition makes it easy to swallow. Reduces heartburn.

Riocol is recommended in the event of oropharyngeal cavity inflammation. Its soothing and protective properties make it particularly indicated after oropharyngeal cavity surgery and radiation treatments. (Keep in mouth for a few minutes).

RICOL

A complete and natural formula for a product that effectively combats problems in the oropharyngeal cavity.

The selected ingredients also make Riocol mouthwash excellent against inflammations.

Lapacho: this plant grows in Central and South America, where it has always been used as a natural remedy. It boosts the natural defence of the body and features strong antifungal properties, which help reduce inflammations. Lapacho is very effective against Candida and has excellent detoxifying and purifying properties.

Erysimum: also known as "the singer's plant" for its effectiveness against aphonia and hoarseness (dysphonia). It is rich in mucilage and sulphur compounds. Therefore, it has excellent soothing and emollient properties that are very effective in the event of pharyngitis, laryngitis, and mouth inflammation in general.

Marigold: medicinal plant containing active ingredients that are effective against skin disorders. These features make Riocol mouthwash effective also against oral cavity lesions and canker sores, as well as against gastric disorders.

Mallow: known for its calming and anti-inflammatory properties, it also has emollient and soothing effects on the oropharyngeal mucous membrane, thereby protecting it against irritants.

Plantain: included in the German Pharmacopoeia as a remedy against irritations of the upper airways, it features emollient, decongestant, and spasmolytic properties that make it particularly indicated in the event of inflammations.

Chamomile: features soothing, antispasmodic, and healing properties and is an excellent sedative, also effective against pain (for example after oral cavity surgery).

Hyaluronic acid: useful to maintain the right level of hydration in the oral cavity. Its protective and stimulant activity promote the speedy healing of canker sores and stomatitis.
